FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Work to Begin on Highway US-81

Weather permitting, concrete pavement repair is scheduled to begin the week of August 3 on US-81 in Columbus, according to the Nebraska Department of Roads.

The project will begin just west of the US-81/US-30 junction and extend to three miles south of Madison. Work will take place in both the southbound and northbound lanes.

Motorists can expect intermittent lane closures. Local access will be maintained for businesses, landowners, and residents. The anticipated project completion is mid November.
